We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Foxwood Homeowners Association, Inc. which comprise the balance sheet as of September 30, 2015 and the related statements of revenues, expenses and changes in fund balances, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements. The comparative information for Foxwood Homeowners Association as of September 30, 2014 was audited by other auditors whose report dated October 31, 2014 expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statement that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing the procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Foxwood Homeowners Association, Inc., as of September 30, 2015 and the results of its operations, changes in its fund balance and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The Statement of Repairs and Maintenance on Page 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not required part of the financial statements. The information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves and other additional procedures, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Omission of Required Supplementary Information about Future Major Repairs and Replacements

As discussed in Note 10, the Board of Manager has omitted the information about the estimates of future costs of repairs and replacements that accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require to be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such missing information, although not part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Financial Accounting Standards Board, who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. Our opinion on the basic financial statements is not affected by the missing information.

FOXWOOD HOMEOWNERS' ASSOCIATION, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
SEPTEMBER 30, 2015 & 2014

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF ORGANIZATION

Foxwood Homeowners' Association, Inc. (Entity) was established in October 1977 in the State of New York. The Entity is responsible for the operation and maintenance of the common property within the development known as Foxwood Condominiums located in Pleasantville, New York. The complex is comprised of 254 condominium units divided as follows; Foxwood I Condominium 65 units, Foxwood II Condominium 88 units, Foxwood III Condominium 101 units (Foxes). In accordance with its by-laws a Board of Managers governs the Entity.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Fund Accounting

The Entity maintains its accounts using fund and accrual accounting. Financial resources are classified for accounting and reporting purposes as operating funds. The Entity has not set up a separate replacement fund.

Depreciation

Capitalized equipment is depreciated over its estimated useful life using the straight line method of depreciation

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Entity considers securities purchased with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Maintenance & Insurance Assessments

The individual unit owners of the three Foxes are subject to monthly maintenance assessments to pay for the operation and maintenance of both the common areas and operation of their condominium. The Entity's budgets for insurance, maintenance and repairs for the common area of the entire development, pool operations and lawn care and assesses each Foxwood (I, II and III) a monthly assessment for maintenance and insurance. The three Foxes pay the Entity as follows; Foxwood I 25.60%, Foxwood II 34.60% and Foxwood III 39.80% of the total Entity's budget.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

Homeowners' associations may be taxed either as homeowners' association or as regular corporations. In fiscal years 2015 and 2014 the Entity elected to be taxed as a homeowner association. Under that election, the Entity is taxed on its nonexempt function income, such as interest earnings, at a flat rate of 30%. Exempt function income, which consists primarily of member assessments, is not taxable. The Entity was also liable for New York State franchise tax in fiscal years 2014 and 2013 based upon capital

The Entity's tax filings are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service and/or New York State Taxation and Finance. The years open are fiscal years 2015, 2014 and 2013. When evaluating the Entity's tax provisions and accruals, management believes that its estimates are appropriate based on current facts and circumstances.

Property and Equipment

The Entity capitalizes all equipment to which it has title or other evidence of ownership with the exception of real property directly associated with the units. Common areas acquired from the developer and related improvements to such property are not recorded in the Entity's financial statements because those properties are owned by the individual unit owners in common and not by the Entity.

Subsequent Events

In preparing the financial statements, the Entity has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure through December 3, 2015 the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

The Entity's policy is to recognize the costs of compensated absences when actually paid to employees. The Entity does not provide pension benefits for its employees.

NOTE 10 – FUTURE MAJOR REPAIRS AND REPLACEMENTS

The Entity has not conducted a study to determine the remaining useful lives of the components of common property and estimates of costs of major repairs and replacements that may be required in the future, nor has the board of managers developed a plan to fund those needs. When funds are required for major repairs and replacements, the Entity plans to borrow, increase maintenance assessments, utilize its existing credit line, or delay repairs and replacements until funds are available. The effect on future assessments has not been determined.
